Children Illegal Market Scandal Russia Once Right

With all due regard for the vagaries of the legal mind there is something stiff-necked and anti-social about yesterday's Arkansas Supreme Court decision reaffirming its earlier decision that 1,700 Pulaski county divorcees are illegal.

Twice now the supreme court has examined the legality of Second Division Pulaski Chancery court and Mrs. Ruth Hale, its chancery on domestic relations—and twice the high tribunal has ruled the special court to be unconstitutional.

Which means that the 1,750 divorces granted by Mrs. Hale are illegal. But some of these folks have remarried—and some have children by these illegal marriages. How can a child be unconstitutional?

I am glad to see that when the matter of declaring children to be unconstitutional came before the supreme court was pushed to a four-to-three vote before making the wrong answer—and that among the three justices voting correctly, although in the minority, was Hope's own Ed E. McCardin.

There is enough irregularity in human relations without the social state being further damaged by the very legal institution which was set up to protect it.

These 1,750 "illegal" divorcees represent as many pairs of human beings who took the time and trouble to go through what the state has advertised to all the world was the correct and legal procedure to keep their homes in order.

And then the supreme court goes out in its way to kick them in the teeth—destroying the money that they paid trial lawyers in good faith and humiliating them before the world.

It is not something to recommend the law to a people already living in a world perilously close to lawlessness.

Today Hope police are beginning to enforce the two-hour parking limit rule in the downtown district. From an office window you watch the officer mark your car, and you make note of the time—but after a while the suspense begins to kill you, and you finally move the darn thing. . . when you push the car so far away you have saved time walking up town in the first place.

And now there's a strong breath of scandal blowing through the commodity exchanges where you watch the officer mark your car, and you make note of the time—but after a while the suspense begins to kill you, and you finally move the darn thing. . . when you push the car so far away you have saved time walking up town in the first place.

We have been giving Russia some hot words recently, but it seems to me the United States overstepped plain facts when it charged that documents discovered in Berlin showed the Soviet made a deal with Hitler. Didn't Russia do that only after Germany overran Czechoslovakia without protest from the rest of us? My recollection is that Britain and France signed Munich—a treaty with Hitler which Russia bitterly opposed—and the German-Russian pact later was strictly a matter of self-defense. I think this is the one time Russia was right.

BY JAMES THRASHER Senator Jenner Solves Mystery of Russian Attitude

It is all over now. Russian policy is no longer perplexing. For Senator Jenner of Indiana has cracked the mystery and come up with the key to Soviet strategy. Premier Stalin is opposing the Marshall Plan because he wants to see it passed. That's what the senator said.

He figures it this way. Mr. Stalin knows that the United States, like a stubborn child, will do just opposite to what Russia asks. So, by blasting the Marshall Plan, smart old Uncle Joe thinks he can make the most reluctant American congressman hasten to approve it. Then America will pour billions into Europe and get everything working nicely. Uncle Joe will then step in and "loot" the continent.

Let's see how Mr. Jenner's theory applies to other Soviet acts of opposition. The Kremlin has its American Communists supporting Henry Wallace for President because it doesn't want Mr. Wallace to win. It wants Mr. Truman in the White House. The Marshall Plan through. But suppose the Republic.

Russians Claim Captured Documents Prove U. S. Was Responsible for the War

By WATER CRONKITE

Moscow, Feb. 10 — (UP)—The Russian government today said it would soon release captured German documents proving the United States was responsible for the second world war by rearming Hitler's Germany with a "golden rain of American dollars."

Britain and France were equally guilty, Russia charged, by completing a series of separate pacts with Germany which broke down the European policy of collective security against a German resurgence.

A statement issued at a press conference by the Soviet Information Bureau said "Russia would publish 'shortly' documents captured by Soviet troops to prove these charges."

The Soviet statement was made in answer to the U. S. State Department's publication of secret 1939-1941 Russian-German diplomatic documents. These charged the Russians and Germans with a conspiracy to conquer and divide the world.

The statement, 6,000 words in length, was described as only the "first half" of the Soviet accusations. The second half will be released later, the Russians said, and then the documents proving the accusations will be published.

The Russian statement was titled "Falsifiers of history—a historical note." It charged the U. S. State Department with falsifying history by publishing only selected documents.

Other secret documents showing the guilt of the western powers have been concealed, "Russia charged. The statement said these are the documents which Russia will publish."

(Radio Moscow began broadcasting the Russian accusations simultaneously in English and German at 2:30 a. m. GMT (10:30 p. m. EST) London reported.)

The Russians asserted that World War II would have ended in the first year with Hitler's defeat if Germany had been bolstered by American capital and Anglo-French appeasement.

"It was the golden rain of American dollars that fertilized the industry of the world," the statement said.

Federal weather bureau forecasts said temperatures across the country—except in southern Florida—were below seasonal levels.

Southern states got the worst of the February climatic capers—a heavy fall of snow, rain and sleet and a drop in temperatures to far below freezing. Southern Florida escaped the wintry blasts and the mercury hovered around the 80 above mark yesterday.

The New England states, upstate New York and the central states remained the light zones. The low readings today included 32 below at Ft. Rucker, N. Y., and Bangor, Me.; 30 at Utica, N. Y.; 28 at Schenectady, N. Y., an all-time low there; 27 at International Falls, Minn.; 19 at Caribou, Me., and 20 at Utica, N. Y.

The snow belt covered all parts of Dixieland, with heavy falls in Arkansas, Tennessee and the Carolinas. Snow also fell on Alabama and parts of Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and Virginia.

Underworld Leader Shot, Near Death

By PATRICIA CLARY

Beverly Hills, Cal., Feb. 10 — (UP)—Tony Cornero Stralla, west coast gambling king and one time run runner, was near death today from a bullet wound in the abdomen fired by an unidentified gunman who handed him a package at his home last night.

Doctors worked feverishly to save the life of the 48-year-old former "admiral" of a luxurious gambling fleet. His wife, former actress Barbara Land, who only last week took an overdose of sleeping tablets as the result of a "slight quarrel," was at his bedside.

Stralla was conferring with two Mexicans about the gambling situation in lower California when the doorbell of his home rang. He excused himself and went to the door.

His would-be assassin stood in the shadows and handed Stralla a package. Stralla said he could remember only that he man was tall, slender and thin-faced.

"Here's the package," the gunman said.

As Stralla reached to accept it, the gunman fired from a hidden revolver through the wrapped package. The bullet hit Stralla in the stomach. He fell on his back in the hallway and the gunman fled with an accomplice.

Reports immediately linked the attempted assassination with the rumored reopening of legalized gambling in lower California. The banner headline of "Huanan" newspaper, which reached the U. S. only yesterday, boldly said: "Gambling will be okayed in lower California if Cornero is eliminated."

It also was rumored that the assailant might have been hired by rival Nevada gamblers. Like Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel, who was killed only a few blocks away last June, Stralla had a finger in many of the underworld deals.

Police, who began a roundup of all underworld characters, said Stralla was "evasive as a typical gangster" before he went into the operating room. He said he didn't know anybody who wanted to kill him.

'Airborne Warfare' Is Book That Probably Will Affect Lives of You and Children

By HAL BOYLE

New York — (AP)—I want to tell you about a book that may affect your life and the lives of your children.

It is a book without a plot, it has no hero or heroine and no love interest—except maybe love of country. It has no happy ending, because it ends on the note that we are just beginning.

The book is "Airborne Warfare" and it is published by the Infantry Journal Press, whose volumes for one reason or another don't hit major drugstore book counters.

Maj. Gen. "Slim Jim" Gavin wrote the book. It is a kind of blue-print of world war three—when and where—when it will rank in time with the historic book on air.

What will future warfare be like? Well, Gavin thinks beachheads will be replaced by airheads on enemy territory—a full army landed by air and functioning in four to six days.

Guided missiles—with atom bombs as their probable warheads—will have a global range but will be accurate only as targets a few hundred miles away.

"Never again may troops concentrate as they have in the past," he says. "Never again may troops and ships congest a beach as they did after landing in the invasion of Normandy. Dispersion must govern all operations of the future."

Troops carrying concentrated rations and light-weight but terrifically powerful new weapons will fan out after landing and concentrate only to meet the ground enemy—when close contact will prevent either side from using atomic bombs.

The targets of airborne landings will probably be the launching sites of enemy guided missiles or key industrial and political centers.

Gavin believes that an enemy attack would begin with a bombardment of guided missiles followed in six minutes to six hours by airborne landings. He says the flight of a parachute may be cut off by little more than one diving suit, thus removing Miami and Palm Beach from the American scene.

The only possible certain antidote to an airborne force prepared to counterattack and isolate or destroy enemy forces. . . . His sober conclusion:

Chinese Observe New Year

Shanghai, Feb. 10 — (AP)—Today marked the world's biggest birthday party.

More than 450,000,000 Chinese began a year older with the advent of the lunar new year. The troubled nation celebrated its birthday and celebrated noisily.

In Shanghai, there were fireworks, whistles, clamorous beatings of cymbals and drums. Lusty thumping of washtub. Everyone sang and danced. The Chinese saluted down to the best meal they could afford—which wasn't much.

There were huge earthen jugs of hatching, a mild yellow wine served hot. Some qualified pal gah, a Chinese word so potent that it is used in some hospitals to preserve corpses.

It was a day of reckoning, too. Everyone had a moral obligation to pay his bills. But many avoided their creditors. A favorite refuge is a Chinese word. Aware that many patrons dropped in for an unneeded bath, operators were charging the debt dodgers a double rate.

The lunar holiday celebration lasts four days. On the fifth, "the day of the dead," Chinese shops will reopen.

This is the "year of the rat." Chinese hope earnestly that it will be better than the last, which was "the year of the pig."

because too many takeoff airfields were required.

Two years later three full divisions of airborne troops were the first allied soldiers to land in France.

"If our development of equipment for amphibious warfare were as retarded as our development for airborne warfare has been," he observes drily, "we would have made the Normandy assault in rowboats."

What will future warfare be like? Well, Gavin thinks beachheads will be replaced by airheads on enemy territory—a full army landed by air and functioning in four to six days.

Guided missiles—with atom bombs as their probable warheads—will have a global range but will be accurate only as targets a few hundred miles away.

"Never again may troops concentrate as they have in the past," he says. "Never again may troops and ships congest a beach as they did after landing in the invasion of Normandy. Dispersion must govern all operations of the future."

Troops carrying concentrated rations and light-weight but terrifically powerful new weapons will fan out after landing and concentrate only to meet the ground enemy—when close contact will prevent either side from using atomic bombs.

The targets of airborne landings will probably be the launching sites of enemy guided missiles or key industrial and political centers.

Gavin believes that an enemy attack would begin with a bombardment of guided missiles followed in six minutes to six hours by airborne landings. He says the flight of a parachute may be cut off by little more than one diving suit, thus removing Miami and Palm Beach from the American scene.

The only possible certain antidote to an airborne force prepared to counterattack and isolate or destroy enemy forces. . . . His sober conclusion:

The nation that in the future has the best trained and equipped airborne forces has the best chance of survival. And the nation or nations that control the air will control the peace."

Consumers Are Warned Not to Be Optimistic Over Slight Drop in Some Prices

All Commodities Hit by General Price Break

New York, Feb. 10 — (AP)—Prices nosedived swiftly today on commodity and wholesale markets alike. Stocks were caught in the downward swirl to the tune of $1 to $3 a share.

Cotton and grain led the retreat. The break was more general than at any time since the first dramatic crack in the commodity price structure last Wednesday.

Livestock prices remained at yesterday's lowest figures as fresh supplies were cut back severely overnight.

Wheat, oats, corn, lard, hides, soybeans and cottonseed oil were down the limits.

Cost-of-living items were down in many instances but American Woolen Co. announced a price boost of 8 to 12 percent on men's worsted suiting fabrics for next fall.

Some items on the wholesale meat market at Chicago fell as much as $4 a hundred pounds.

Even butter, which has been at record high recently, skidded down.

Among the grains, wheat resisted the decline for a short time, buying attributed to mill interests. But when that buying was over the drop was sharp.

A statistician said the grain break appeared to be caused by lack of confidence. Yesterday's rally he added, seems to have been the result of short covering.

Cotton was down as much as $9.95 a bale, only five cents below the daily allowable limit.

Grain slammed downward with the sharpness that characterized last week's drastic fall.

Livestock was selling at yesterday's lowest prices. Cotton was down $2.85 a bale, even butter which had been at record high recently, skidded.

There were scattered reports of further declines in cost-of-living items.

Less than an hour after trading opened in the Chicago pits all deliveries of corn were down the daily limit of eight cents a bushel. Grain had staged a one-day rally yesterday.

Wheat and oats dropped rapidly and several deliveries hit the daily allowable decline of 10 cents and six cents respectively.

Lard dropped the 200 points "allowed in day's trading."

A general nervousness predominated all markets. The nation's economists studied the downward picture ahead.

Traders in both stocks and commodities were cautious everywhere. Many agreed with the observation of the president of the American Bankers Association, Joseph M. Dodge of Detroit, who told his organization the country is "riding on a manufactured prosperity" which he said could not last.

The Bankers Association was told by a leading economist, Dr. Marcus Nadler of New York University, that a price readjustment now would be "painful" but not necessarily serious. The sooner the readjustment is made, the better it will be said.

The declines on the New York Stock Exchange put the share average at a new low since early last June.

Persistent pessimism regarding the world economic picture and fears that the downturn in staples may foreshadow a business recession later in the year, if not sooner, resulted in a lightning of stock holdings.

Hog prices were at yesterday's lowest quotations at Chicago. Suppliers had offered 5,000 hogs on sale. The trade had expected 15,000 would be available to purchasers.

At New York, stocks were lower all along the line and cotton prices fell more than $1 a bale in early dealings.

Consumers were hopeful meat bargains after yesterday's sharp drop in livestock prices, but economists warned them not to be too optimistic.

Politics Echoed Over Truman, Taft Price Feud

Washington, Feb. 10 — (AP)—The cry of "politics" echoed on both sides today in the election year price feud between President Truman and Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

The latest jab came from Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who said Taft, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, acted for "political reasons" when he declared the administration was trying to keep prices high for political gain.

There was no immediate reply from Taft who left for a midwestern speaking tour at about the time Anderson hit back.

But on the nation's economy in general, the Ohio senator said in a speech Thursday at Chicago and elsewhere:

"We can't give away sums (for European recovery) so large that they force controls and government regulation and high prices and shortages which threaten the very condition here at home we are trying to protect."

Meanwhile, there were these other developments dealing with the nation's economy:

1. Meeting President Truman's request, the Senate House Economic Committee voted 8 to 2 to receive grain rationing to liquor producers through February.

The next step is up to the Senate and House banking committees. They must decide whether to abide by the joint committee's recommendation and send a bill to both chambers.

The key to the situation appeared to rest with the House Banking Committee. That group last month killed a Senate bill which would have continued controls on grain for which through February.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.) pledged "very careful" consideration of the matter but gave no hint that his committee might reverse itself.

2. Senator Tobey (R-NH) chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, continued on page two.

City Schools to Reopen Wednesday

School will re-open tomorrow, Wednesday, February 11, following a two-day vacation forced by six inches of snow.

Here is the bus situation as reported by Superintendent James H. Jones:

Bus No. 1—Will make all its runs.

Bus No. 2—Will not run.

Bus No. 3—Will make SPG run but will not the Washington road.

Bus No. 4—Will make most of its runs with the exception of the loop in the Providence area.

Bus No. 5—Probably make most of run except in upper end.

Bus No. 6-7-8—Will not run.

Bus No. 9—Will make most of its runs.

Superintendent urged that all students who can get to school to do so. Students who are unable to get to school will be given a chance to catch up in their work. The bus situation will probably remain the same the rest of the week.

Two Hour Parking Limit to Be Enforced

Car owners who didn't remember probably already have been reminded the hard way that Hope has a two-hour parking limit. City police were busy with yellow chalk this morning marking cars every two hours and by night a few dollars are expected to change hands.

About the only break the car owner will get is on any day—maybe the chalk will be washed off. But today if you see two chalk marks on the tread of a rear tire—just look somewhere near the steering wheel because a ticket will be waiting.

Politics Echoed

White, told a reporter he favors "very strongly" an extension of controls over use of tin and certain other scarce commodities. These and import restrictions covering such products and fats and oils are due to expire Feb. 28. Mr. Truman asked yesterday that they be continued to prevent "confusion at home and abroad."

Taft said his committee will start hearings February 17. Across the capitol, the matter will be handled by the House Judiciary Committee. Chairman Michener (R-Mich.) promised "proper consideration" but set no date for hearings.

The latest chapter of the squabble between Taft and the administration over why prices are high got started last Thursday when Anderson talked about grain exports at a news conference.

In a letter to Taft yesterday, the secretary said he made no definite announcement that the government plans to buy an additional 50,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Taft said over the week-end that advance announcement of government purchase plans was an attempt to raise prices at a time the market was skidding.

The Okian also said: "The administration, which talks about bringing prices down is afraid they actually will come down."

Anderson retorted he made no other statement to which you could have been referring.

The secretary added that eventually it may be possible to purchase such an amount, "but this possibility is far from being a plan."

Declaring Taft was entirely familiar with the government's grain export plans, Anderson told him: "I feel that your press statement was made for political reasons."

dustry of Germany and particularly her war industry, reestablished her war potential, placed in the hands of the Hitler regime the weapons needed for aggression and enabled Germany to produce a war industry," the statement said.

"The fakers of history would like to forget all this as they try to evade responsibility for their policy that unleashed the second world war," the statement said.

It charged that the U. S. published only selected documents to slander the Soviet Union and undermine the influence of "progressive circles in the United States in an election year."

"This treacherous attitude is typical of the ruling circles of Anglo-American countries," it said.

Among the steps that helped to foster the German armaments industry was the League of Nations plan, which reduced Germany's World War I reparations, the statement said.

(Among the disagreements that broke up the London foreign ministers conference on Germany was Russia's demand for $10,000,000,000 in reparations, which the U. S. and Britain said Germany could not pay herself.)

The Russian statement also stressed the role allegedly played by such Anglo-American financial interests as Dupont, Morgan, Rockefeller, Lamont, Standard Oil and the British Imperial Chemical Trust.

It singled out John Foster Dulles and Allen Welsh Dulles, and Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal for having connections with German capitalists.

The second chapter in the western powers' responsibility for war was the appeasement of Germany, Russia charged. The western powers believed there was no danger in causing they planned to direct it to the East, the statement said.

The steps leading to this included the British-German-French-Italian pact of accord and cooperation in 1937, Anglo-French support of the Polish-German pact in 1938 and the Anglo-German naval agreement, the statement said.

It charged that the rise of German aggression was fostered by the western failure to oppose German violation of the Versailles treaty and failure to defend Ethiopia and Spain.

All this time, the statement said, Russia was pleading for collective security in the League of Nations but was being blocked by Anglo-French diplomacy.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Feb. 10—(P)—Grain futures broke the permissible daily limit in all deliveries at the board of trade today. Opening lower, wheat prices resisted the general selling on some mill buying in early dealing. When that demand was satisfied there were no takers for heavy offerings.

Today's decline was a continuation of liquidation which started February 4, and brokers said it was the result of lack of confidence in present prices. Corn led other grains downward.

During the past week what has declined as much as 19 1/2 cents, corn 34 1/2 cents and oats 15 3/4 cents, a bushel.

At the close all grains and lard were down the permissible daily limit. Wheat was 10 cents lower than the previous close, May $2.43 1/4. Oats were 6 cents lower, May $1.02 5/8. Soybeans were 3 cents lower, March $3.48.

Cash wheat was considered sharply lower with the futures trade today although no sales were reported; basis normally unchanged receipts one car. Corn was seven 1/2 cents lower; no trading basis available; beans 100,000 bushels; shipping sales 133,000 bushels; receipts 120 cars. Oats were sharply lower; no basis available; receipts 12 cars. NEW YORK COTTON

New York, Feb. 10—(P)—Cotton futures broke almost the permissible trading limit of $10 a bale today under a heavy wave of general liquidation stimulated by limit declines in grains and weakness in securities, at the extreme lows, fair mill buying and short covering developed. The market recovered more than $3 a bale and then eased again on further selling.

Traders were upset by the general decline in commodities, which it was feared would have effect on the cotton price structure.

New York, Feb. 10—(P)—Cotton futures broke $10 a bale today, daily permissible trading limit, on a heavy wave of liquidation. Selling was stimulated by limit declines in grains, weakness in securities and a general loss of confidence in the commodity price structure. Uncertainty over the Marshall plan and the lack of buyer demand for textiles also contributed to the selling.

The old crop deliveries all sold off the permissible limit of $50 a bale, along with the December, 1948, delivery.

Futures closed $7.10 to $10 lower than the previous close.

it might work out in the specific case at hand.

If all works well, America will help Europe and Europe will help itself and in three or four years things will be back near normal. Then Russia will go after the rich prize.

It is doubtful that the prize could be won through political infiltration. Communism thrives on discontent. And we may assume that, if ERP succeeds, the people of Europe will be well-fed and prosperous enough not to want to throw over their governments and embrace the Soviet system.

So Russia will have to fight for the loot. But Europe will then be strong enough to resist. There will be shooting and bombing. Factories will be destroyed. Transportation will be blasted. Forests will be burned. Fields will be plowed by shrapnel and sown with mines. Russia will spend billions to undo the work of American billions. And the "loot" will consist of more destruction and discontent.

That's how Senator Jenner's interpretation of Soviet policy looks to us. He says he is "unalterably opposed" to the Marshall Plan in its present form. But the Marshall Plan may pass anyway, in something resembling its present form. If it does, then Russia's anti-ERP propaganda should cease immediately, according to Mr. Jenner's analysis.

Anybody want to bet it will?

Communist Party Official to Be Deported

New York, Feb. 10—(P)—John Williamson, labor secretary of the American Communist party, was arrested by F. B. I. agents at his home today on a deportation warrant.

Described by the agents as a native of Scotland, Williamson was taken to Ellis Island. Immigration service officials announced he would be held there pending a hearing on the warrant.

A Justice Department official said in Washington Williamson was "the most important figure in the Communist party" against whom the department has taken action so far.

Williamson, whose home was given as Ohio when he was named secretary of the Communist Political Association preceding the 1944 presidential campaign, was arrested by a House committee as America's "No. 1 Communist," also is held at Ellis Island on a deportation warrant.

The Justice Department said Williamson "has been posing as an American citizen for many years, whereas he is an alien."

Williamson said he was a member of the Communist Party's national committee, "has been posing as an American citizen for many years, whereas he is an alien."

day had disappeared today.

Bright sun yesterday afternoon melted what the weather bureau described as a "dry snow" rapidly before temperatures nosedived last night.

Minimum thermometer readings early today generally were in the low 20's, but Gilbert recorded a frigid low of 10 degrees. The minimum at Harrison was 15. Fort Smith had 23, Texarkana 24 and Little Rock 23.

Near or slightly above freezing temperatures are expected to be the lowest in most sections tonight. Warmer weather is forecast for Wednesday.

FBI records showed he was born in Scotland 45 years ago.

Immigration service officials and FBI agents took Williamson into custody this morning as he was leaving his New York City home.

Williamson has represented himself as a native of California, department officials said. He claimed, they added, that he was born there in 1902 or 1903 but that his birth records were destroyed in the San Francisco earthquake and fire.

Department officials described Williamson as a member of the "high policy board" of the Communist Party in this country. They said he had been active in party affairs since he was a 15-year-old youngster in Seattle, Wash., in 1918.

Everyone knows where this one's going

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

No, it hasn't always been easy, here of late, to be absolutely sure just which way automobile design was heading.

So it's a refreshing thing, people tell us, to see one car that quite clearly knows where it's going — and shows it inside and out.

You can't mistake this poised and ready fashion plate for anything but a Buick — you're sure from a glance that you'll find it steady as a battle cruiser and full of ginger as one of Grandma's cookies.

A broad bonnet promises plenty-power—and you get it with such velvety new smoothness that you need to check the battery-charge needle to make sure the engine's running.

You size it up as comfortable. The road's verdict is that it's the most tireless car on the market, what with four coil springs, pillowy low-pressure tires and a wholly new attack on car vibration keeping you fresh through the longest day.

You find quiet here — quiet that encourages conversation — quiet from Sound-Sorber top lining that invites conversation in normal tones.

And if it's a Dynaflo Roadmaster you're handling, here you can sample driving ease that is near magic in its simplicity.

You set a lever, press the gas trouble — and simply steer. The power plant does all the rest, swoops you up from standstill to full pace, accelerates, climbs, slows to a stop, starts up again — all without any gearshifting, either manual or automatic!

So it's pretty plain where this one's heading — it's going even higher in the regard of the motoring public.

Why not see your Buick dealer now and get your order in?

Office Nurse

It was rather nice, Janice decided, being a patient instead of a nurse. It was nice just to be in a comfortable bed with fresh-smelling linen, with the shades half-drawn and the room filled with flowers.

Of course, she reflected, she should be on her way to Mexico. But this was almost as good. Mexico could keep. Everything would keep. She did not want to do anything or think about anything or anyone for a long, long time.

The nurse, her white skirts rustling, her face lighted up with a cheerful, purposeful smile, popped open the door to see if Betty Jane was ready to go. "Our patient is doing nicely, but we don't want to tire her."

"On, I won't only stay a few minutes," Betty Jane promised. She handed the nurse a bundle wrapped in green wax paper that could only be more flowers.

I wonder, Janice thought, if I'll get this many flowers at my funeral. Not that the flowers weren't lovely. But her present mood Janice was too indifferent to be grateful for them.

Still, she thought, smiling at Betty Jane, she was glad it wasn't her funeral. She was not too indifferent to be glad that she still was alive.

"My, you look wonderful!" Betty Jane said. But she did not sound as though she meant it. "You must look a wreck, Janice decided. She had not, up until now, cared? She still did not care too much. "How's everything?" she said.

She did not care very much how "everything" was, but it was polite to ask and Betty Jane would expect that much from her. "Just fine! Just fine!" Betty Jane said. "I know you must be worried, thinking I won't be able to take your place. But honestly, even Miss Willows says I'm doing all right."

"I'm sure you'll do much better than I," Janice said. "I could never do that," Betty Jane said honestly. "But the office is all I have now. That's one reason I had to come to see you, Janice. I wanted to tell you, only I don't know how to say it."

"Her voice faltered, but she managed to go on in a moment. "Don't you be sensible, like I always thought I was. What I mean is, don't you put the office first if you want to stay away a long time or anything at all. Just say so."

"Thank you, Janice said. She was not quite sure what she was thanking Betty Jane for, but she knew the other girl was trying to help her. That was why Janice added, "I am going to stay away. As soon as I'm able, I'm going to Mexico for a vacation. And—it seemed now that Janice was beginning to think, whether she was ready or not—you can tell Miss Willows something for me, if you will."

Betty Jane said that she would be glad to. She said she was glad Janice was going away.

"I'm not coming back," Janice said.

Rooneys Agree to a Trial Separation

Hollywood, Feb. 10 — (UP) — Actor Mickey Rooney and his wife, the former "Miss Birmingham," have decided on a trial separation.

The pint-sized actor and his beauty queen wife, Betty Jane, had a falling-out last summer but patched things up before the scrap got into the courts.

"Mickey and Betty Jane have decided on a vacation from each other," explained Sam Steifel, Rooney's business manager. "There were no plans made beyond the vacation and there is no talk of divorce."

Steifel said the Rooneys even plan to go out together occasionally while they are "vacationing" from each other. Mrs. Rooney and their two children will occupy the star's Beverly Hills mansion, but Mickey hasn't decided where he will stay.

Rooney married the Birmingham beauty contest winner while he was in the army and stationed near Birmingham. They have two children, Mickey, Jr., 2 1/2 and Timothy, 1.

The Doctor Says:

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA SERVICE, INC.
Inflammation of the inner lining of the stomach is called gastritis. Little was known about gastritis until the development of an ingenious instrument, called the flexible gastroscope, in 1932. Because it is now possible to look at the inside of the stomach with this device, we now know that there are several kinds of gastritis. The acute variety, a simple type of inflammation, usually results from something swallowed, such as an irritating food, or substances like spices or alcohol. The inflammation does not last more than a week, as a rule, and clears up without causing complications.

In the acute variety, symptoms may start a few hours after swallowing the irritating agent. Loss of appetite and an uncomfortable feeling in the abdomen, sometimes nausea, is common. Nausea, headache, belching and slight fever are also frequent.

A severe form of gastritis is that which comes from swallowing an extremely irritating substance, such as acids or lye. These poisons actually kill the delicate lining membrane and cause an inflammation to develop underneath. Some forms of gastritis result from acute infections such as influenza or pneumonia. The gastritis, however, is not of itself fatal, and if the disease which causes the gastritis improves, the gastritis will also get better.

Chronic type
Chronic inflammation of the stomach also occurs, and is called chronic gastritis. The cause of this condition is not known, though there are several theories. Symptoms vary a great deal, depending on how serious the condition is involved and how long the condition has been present.

Only the treatment of all these conditions, of course, depends on their nature, the cause, how long they have been present, and the general condition of the patient. The striking feature of gastritis, however, is that we now know so much more about it than we did a few years ago, thanks to the flexible gastroscope.

QUESTION: What would cause a breast to get sore?
ANSWER: Any inflammation of the breast might cause soreness. This, of course, could be of an extremely mild nature and disappear of its own accord, but it is best to consult a good physician.

She was right, as just then the nurse peeped her head through the doorway again to say that the visitor had stayed long enough. "We must not tire our patient." (To Be Continued)

Letters to the Editor

To Hempstead Residents:
This is the first year I have been away from my home county during the March of Dimes Drive, and even though cannot be with you in person I am glad to have this opportunity to bring you a short message in behalf of the 1948 Infantile Paralysis Drive.

You, the people of Hempstead County, have always given so generously to this worthy cause, and have been so understanding. At the time I was first stricken, my thoughts and those of my parents went in search of doctors and hospitals that could restore me back to health again. Help from any organization never entered our minds and since polio is a very expensive illness to treat, it wasn't long before our funds were exhausted. To our relief came the assistance of the Hempstead County Chapter for Infantile Paralysis. No one knows better than I how much this has meant to me.

It is not an easy conquest to regain the use of lost muscles. People who are sick for 2 weeks or a month think it is a long, long time but polio has to be treated for years and years. It takes great determination and patience.

Have you ever seen a small child in the first stages of polio taking extremely hot packs on his little limbs and not understanding why? Enduring the pain of physiotherapy treatment because his mother tells him it will make him well? He smiles bravely as tears roll down his cheeks. Picture the heartbreak of a mother seeing her own child go through this. No, this story isn't make-believe, I saw it! To a child apparently doomed never to walk or run again, what could equal the pleasure of helping him—and you can through your contributions to the Infantile Paralysis Drive that is on now.

Have you ever had a doctor tell you to amputate your child's paralyzed arm because it would just be in his way later on? Or watched a little fellow being placed in an iron lung—an iron lung that YOU made possible? Have you seen him struggle to breathe out of it? Can you imagine a whole hospital rejoicing when a patient is able to breathe out of an iron lung just for 3 minutes? And when he gradually increases that time, minute by minute each day until he can stay out for 24 hours. Do you realize this takes months and months of struggle, will-power and prayer? If you could see all of this and more as I have and know it to be the truth as I do, we would not have to ask for your donations.

The money you contribute goes for doctors, nurses, wheel-chairs, medications, hot pack machines, crutches, braces, iron lungs and other aids. New cases are developing each day in some locality or other and for this reason more money is needed so that no person shall be without care and treatment.

I feel confident you will do all in your power to assist Mr. LaGrone, our chairman this year, and help him reach the necessary quota.

I appeal to you to please give generously and promptly to the Infantile Paralysis Drive which stands as a beacon of hope for those in need.

DOROTHY DIX Junior Mimics Parents

Most parents do not realize that children are copycats. If they did, we would have one of the greatest reformations in all history. For fathers and mothers would know that it is not enough to tell their youngsters that they must be good, they would know that they have to set them an example.

For a baby does not arrive in the world with a manual of correct behavior in its hand. It doesn't know right from wrong, or any of the answers. It is a plastic little creature, ready to take any impression, and so, its father and mother are the people with whom it is brought in the most intimate contact, it naturally imitates them.

Strangely enough, this is a fact in child-rearing that most parents fail to take into consideration. They want their children to love and admire them, to have good principles and good manners and to be able to get along with others, and to this end they are always lecturing them about their conduct. But they do not set themselves up as models for their youngsters to go by.

Now preaching to children is a waste of breath. Warnings and admonitions go in one ear and out the other. They have to have some pattern constantly before their eyes, and that makes the conduct of their parents the most important thing in every child's life.

There is no use in telling Johnny and Sadie to be a little gentleman and lady when they grow up under a father and mother who trample the decencies of life under foot.

Absorb Parents' Ways
Parents make no greater mistake than when they think that they can rear their children on the do-as-I-tell-you-and-not-as-I-do plan and still have their youngsters develop into fine men and women. The F.B.I.s are no shrewder detectives than adolescent kids, and it is folly to warn Bobby against drink when Dad is a souper, or for Mother to try to teach modesty to her bobby-soxer daughter when Mamie knows perfectly well that Mama is having a little affair of her own. There isn't a teen-ager whose habits and morals are not founded on their parents'.

So are their manners. If Father gulps his food down like a hungry dog, so will the children. If Mother goes about home slovenly and sloverly, so will her daughters. If Father's vocabulary is mainly made up of curse words, Tommy will use the same language. If Mother is a nagger, Heaven pity the man whom Susie marries.

Same way with children's ideals. Their standards are a replica of what they have seen in their homes since they were babies. If children have heard their mother lie and cheat and heard their father brag about the crooked deal he has pulled off, there will be no Veracious James nor Honest John in that family. They won't even know they are crooks because they are just doing what Mama and Papa have always done.

Why parents fail to realize their ninety-nine times out of a hundred their children are what they make them, is hard to understand. They can't shirk their responsibility for how Bobby and Sally turn out for the kids are just little copycats who follow the pattern their mothers and fathers have set them.

Happy those children who have parents who set them a fine example to live by. But preaching to children to be good isn't enough. They must have a living example to show them the way.

Indians Pay Final Tribute to Gandhi

New Delhi, Feb. 10. (AP) - The people of India made their last obeisance today before the cremated remains of Mohandas K. Gandhi. His ashes will be consigned Thursday at noon to their last resting place, the three Indian rivers held most sacred by Hindus.

Across India, somewhat similar rites will be held. Portions of Gandhi's ashes were distributed to all Indian provinces as a symbol of universal love between Gandhi and his people.

The defense ministry announced detailed plans for the ceremony as police continued their investigation into Gandhi's assassination. The Indian religious leader was shot to death Jan. 30 on a walk to a prayer meeting. Police remained silent on their progress.

There was some public speculation on the arrest of a man with a dangerous reputation, the home of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the premier. Some believed it was the same man who earlier Sunday tried to enter the home of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Several of the Dodgers are flat holders, others have indicated dissatisfaction with phases of their contracts, and those who sign up are getting fat (By Rickey standard).

A notable example was Riffin' Ralph Branca, the club's only 20 game winner, who signed up yesterday for approximately $14,000 or thereabouts.

Rickey Getting Demands for Salary Hikes

By CARL LUNDQUIST
 New York, Feb. 10. (UP) - Tricky Branch Rickey, who usually has more angles than a geometry text book, apparently was fighting a losing battle in higher mathematics with his Brooklyn ball players.

Rickey for many reasons has always found it expedient to keep his players lean and hungry. But now he is being served with unprecedented salary demands by the batting line-up and came close to taking the World Series from the New York Yankees.

It isn't only the money that bothers Rickey, and that bothers him plenty. His major concern is his pet theory that high-salaried players held most sacred by Hindus.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh & Fullerton, Jr.

St. Louis Team Superior to Notre Dame

By The Associated Press

The hardwood of Notre Dame's home basketball floor looks like just another row of planks to the frisky Billikins of St. Louis University.

Unfrightened by the Irish im-passing record in their own ball-park, the straight victories and not a setback since December 1943 - the St. Louis crew went out last night and shattered it to pieces.

The score: St. Louis 68, Notre Dame 51.

The surprisingly one-sided St. Louis triumph eclipsed the eventful other activities on the college basketball front that saw Kentucky and Oklahoma A & M, their conference leaders, Missouri whip Kansas in the Big Seven, and Duquesne throttle Seton Hall in a battle between eastern independent titans.

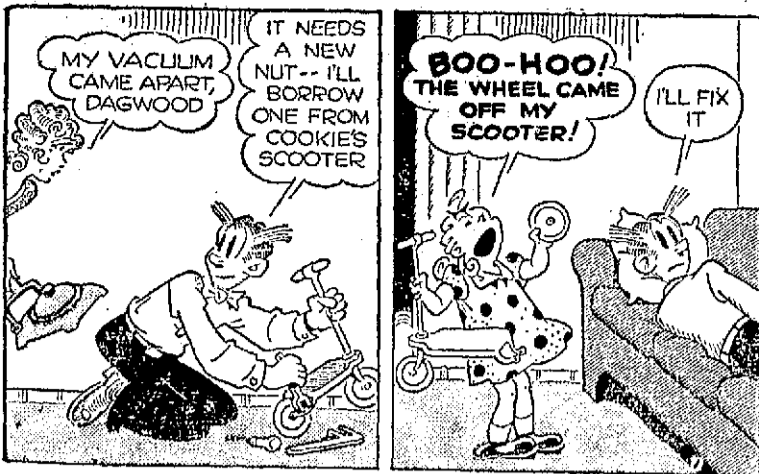

Ed McCauley, the Billikins' six-foot-eight star, was the best of the assault on Notre Dame's home winning streak. He rang in eight field goals and five free tries for 21 points.

Kevin O'Shea led the Irish offensive with 13. The win was a second for St. Louis over Notre Dame this year - that too, cracking a four-year span in which the Irish have never have never lost Irish have never lost in a single season.

It was the Billikins' 15th win in 16 starts.

Spain May Be Edging Back to Good Graces of Her Neighbors After Two Years

By WITT MacKENIE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

Opening of the French frontier after two years, which Generalissimo Franco ostracized by the great as the bad lad of Europe, one wonder whether Spain may be edging back into the good graces of her neighbors. Certainly it would be a boon to the Marshall plan if Spain could purge herself of her sin and join in the rehabilitation of western Europe. She has many resources to contribute to recovery—and that at a moment when every ounce of help is needed.

Spain's sin of course is one of omission rather than commission. She has failed to get rid of Dictator Franco, though nobody has suggested just how she could do this in view of the fact that the generalissimo has a great standing army and is all set for defense of his position.

Nobody loves a dictator, but we have to deal with the anomaly that many nations in theoretical good-standing not only are under dictatorships but are members of the United Nations. The most curious aspect of the situation is that the most powerful totalitarian dictatorship of them all—Soviet Russia—is the spearhead of the attack on the Spanish government. Moscow naturally aims at the reestablishment in Madrid of the leftist Republican regime which Franco overthrew in his rebellion of 1936-39.

World opinion of the Spanish dictatorship was recorded by the United Nations in 1946 when the general assembly at Lake Success agreed that all countries should withdraw their ambassadors from Madrid. This wasn't to be a breach of diplomatic relations but was a gesture of condemnation. America didn't have an ambassador in Spain. The same was true of the Argentine, but Buenos Aires promptly sent one to Madrid as an expression of disapproval of the assembly action.

Since then there has been no official change in the attitudes of the countries subscribing to this assembly action. Neither America nor Britain has retreated from their positions of no compromise with Franco. So far as the Marshall plan is concerned, Spain wasn't invited by her European neighbors to join in the program and thus on paper there is no question of her sharing in the rehabilitation efforts.

Still, it is an interesting fact that the French-Spanish border is being opened to traffic and trade. We must assume that neither America nor Britain raised objections, for France wouldn't have agreed to the opening if they had. The only objection thus far registered is by the Communists. The French Bolsheviks in Paris—headed by Maurice Thorez, Jacques Duclos and Andre Marty—protested during a demonstration Sunday.

From the economic standpoint

Injunction Sought Against Striking Union

By MAX HALL

Indianapolis, Feb. 9 — (AP)—Government lawyers seeking a court order against the AFL International Typographical Union said today there is "imminent danger" that an illegal closed shop will become an accomplished fact in newspaper composing rooms to the "complete frustration" of the Taft-Hartley act.

They told Judge Luther M. Swygert that I. T. U. officers have economic power to compel the nation's newspaper publishers to become "the unwilling partners to their unlawful pursuits" unless he issues an "immediate" temporary injunction to stop them.

Those contentions were made in a 15-page "memorandum" which the office of Robert N. Denham, general counsel for the National Labor Relations Board prepared for filing in court. Denham signed it, as well as two of his top aides who came here for the injunction hearing.

At the same time, in another memorandum prepared for filing today, I. T. U. lawyers renewed their attack on constitutionality of section 30 (J) of the Taft-Hartley act, under which Denham's office is seeking the injunction.

They told Judge Swygert he has no right to consider merits of the proposed injunction until the constitutionality question has been curiously settled.

Today's opening session of the I. T. U. injunction battle, the biggest and most complex injunction case yet to arise under the Taft-Hartley Act, was expected to be taken up with arguments on three preliminary questions:

1. Whether the law violates the constitution. The union argued that the injunction provision is unconstitutional in that it confers more than judicial powers on the courts and makes the courts a mere link in an administrative process, since the five-man NLRB will have the final decision on whether the union has violated the law.

2. Whether Denham's office was the proper agency to ask for the injunction (the union says only the five-man NLRB could do it).

3. Whether other parties would be allowed to take part in the injunction hearing, such as the American Newspaper Publishers Association, which filed the original "unfair labor practices" charges against the I. T. U., and the Chicago Typographical Local Union, which has been on strike against the main charge, among many, against the I. T. U. is that of insisting on a continuation of closed-shop conditions despite the Taft-Hartley ban on the employer to hire only union members and to fire anybody who leaves the union.)

The five-man NLRB will eventually rule in these charges. But today's Denham statement said that if the union's policy is not halted by an injunction now, any future NLRB action may be too late.

"The ITU's policy" said the memorandum is "a germ center of an economic psychosis which is rapidly extending itself from plant to plant and by virtue of which closed shop and other unilaterally imposed working conditions are in danger of being established as a fact."

It also said the Taft-Hartley regulatory program "is in imminent danger of complete frustration if immediate relief from the situation is not forthcoming."

The Denham statement said the union and its officers "did not hesitate to employ, indeed they welcome recourse to strikes, slow-downs and disruptions of x x bargaining relations as weapons by which to coerce accession to their unlawful demands."

Wakulla Springs, Fla., Feb. 9 — (UP)—Southern governors adopted a "calm" attitude today toward President Truman's civil rights program and left Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi apparently alone to make it an immediate issue.

Wright said at the close of a meeting here Sunday that he had told the Southern governor's conference would be the logical standard bearer in a fight against the president's request Congress for federal laws against poll taxes, lynching and segregation of the races of interstate carriers.

"But if all other recourse is unavailable, I stand ready to take other and more positive action," said Wright.

He had asked the governors to get behind a South-wide revolt, selecting a "favorite son" as a Democratic presidential nominee. But his resolution did not get a second. Before adjourning, the governors went far enough to appoint a committee to study the purpose of the president's civil rights program and report back to the conference within 30 days.

The conference achieved the stated purpose of its week-end meeting—plans for a program of regional schools in the South where Negro and white students will be given equal training in the professions and other sciences.

The governors expressed the hope that the project would meet requirements of a supreme court decision that the state must provide both races with equal facilities.

A committee of five governors—not including Wright—was appointed to study the president's civil rights program. Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina was named chairman. Others are Gov. Beauford Lester, Texas; Gregg Cherry, North Carolina; William M. Tuck, Virginia, and Ben T. Laney, Arkansas.

The western democracies obviously were glad to see Spain's resources pooled with those of other countries. The difficulty is on the political side.

However, as the signs read, there may be a trend toward getting Spain into the economic set-up. The initiative, of course, would have to be taken by the countries of Europe.

Laney's Stand on Rights Issue Rapped

Little Rock, Feb. 10 — (UP)—Gov. Ben Laney returned to Arkansas today faced with the first major criticism of his militant stand against President Truman's civil rights program.

In a sharply worded statement, former Gov. Carl E. Bailey rapped Laney's stand and charged that Southern leaders have misrepresented the true Southern feeling regarding Mr. Truman's proposals.

At the same time, Bailey said he would boycott the annual Jefferson-Jackson dinner if party leaders go through with their decision to withhold proceeds from the National Democratic Party. He described the action as "childish" and an act of "bad faith."

Bailey said that action of the Southern Governors' Conference last week-end in Tallahassee, Fla., and attended by Laney was "the most cynical gesture I can recall in all my political experience."

The governors decided to ask the president to modify his civil rights stand.

"Like most Southerners," Bailey said, "I also entertain reservations as to the wisdom and the practicability of some of the president's proposals, but I see in them no threat to Southern institutions sufficient to justify wild and unreflected secession from the Democratic party."

"I believe that some of our leaders, acting in haste and in anger, have misrepresented the true feeling of the majority of the people of Arkansas and of the South," Bailey declared.

"The action of the southern gov-vanced in the opening round of the independent division last night, Hattiesville-Evred defeated the Pine Bluff-Eureka 39-18. The Little Rock Independents tossed out Ruckerman, 27-26. Spanu-Esso whipped the Pine Bluff Redbirds, 22-14.

Little Rock, Feb. 10 — (AP)—The apparent low bid of $10,734,950 on construction of a 500-bed Veterans Administration hospital here is more than 15 per cent above the government estimate on the job.

Col. Gerald Galloway, U. S. district engineer here, said the bid was made by S. Patti and associates of Kansas City, Mo. The government estimate was $9,519,352. He said a review of the bids would be necessary.

errors in calling upon Mr. Truman and the leaders of the Democratic party to privately agree to "soft-pedal" the civil rights program in return for Southern political support is the most cynical gesture I can recall in all my political experience," he said, "we are not likely to find a solution to our problems by gratuitously insulting the president of the United States."

Bailey said that Arkansans have no moral right to hold the Jefferson-Jackson dinner unless proceeds from it are sent to Washington.

Bailey also challenged the right of dinner guests to speak for the Democratic party.

"I suggest that some of the best and most loyal Democrats in the state cannot afford to pay $15 for the privilege of having their views recorded," Bailey declared.

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A few blood counts may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too fluid or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloats and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vibrant blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm, flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

"Mr. Penney, I have a problem..."

"So many people want to give affectionate remembrances on St. Valentine's Day—and lots of them have only a little to spend. How about helping me to help them?"

Coupled with this great engineering triumph is a striking improvement in beauty and luxury. New exterior smartness extends from the new radiator grille to the streamlined rear bumper.

Interiors, too, are remarkably improved. Upholsteries are more beautiful and are expertly blended to achieve new attractiveness and charm. Instrument panels are finished in a smart design adapted from quarter-sawn mahogany—and an adroit use of chrome moulding adds a deft touch of modernity.

Engine and chassis have been refined wherever possible—but they remain, basically, the same engineering masterpieces which have become
